Nelson Wallace, freshman from Pageland, was named the "Tiger of the Week" for his sparkling play against N. C. State. Films show he made 16 individual tackles, was in on seven assists and blocked one extra point attempt. He was named the outstanding defensive player of the game and a $1,000 scholarship in his name was presented Clemson by the NCAA and Chevrolet.

RETIREMENT . . . FOR THE THIRD TIME

Most people look forward to that one big retirement, and a few will embark on a second career. But how many can say: "I retired three times." In about eight months, Bob Jones can.

Most people think that no one has been around the Clemson Athletic Department longer than Frank Howard. But Bob Jones has. He's got his former boss by a year.

Jones retired from the peach business first. With his father and brother, they operated the largest peach orchard in Anderson County, harvesting somewhere around 12,000 trees each year. But after the death of his father, he and his brother decided to pull up their trees because of several factors.

That was one retirement.

Then June 30, 1965, Jones went through another retirement, which was much more formal than when he called it quits with the peaches. Amid pomp and circumstance, a full dress parade, a band playing and full colonels barking out commands, they gave him the full treatment, one a major general is due, in his retirement from the military.

The Legion of Merit was dutifully pinned on and this brought to a close 35 years of active and reserve duty which included being commanding general of the 108th Division.

That was the second retirement, and now the third one isn't too far away. The one that's been the biggest part of his life—athletics—is fittingly the final one.

Jones came to Clemson August 31, 1926, as a student. "My daddy didn't even cut the motor off in the car," the native of Starr recalls. "He said he had to get back to the farm and wished me good luck."

It wasn't long until Jones wrote his father that he "didn't believe too much in this education" and that he "wanted to take the money he was going to spend on me in college and buy an airplane." Jones said he never would forget his father's reply.

"He wrote me back on the back of a blank check," Jones recalls. It said: "Son, stop your bellyaching. If you want to come home, come on, the mule is still waiting down here."

That ended Jones' idea of quitting school, going back to the farm and/or flying an airplane. He graduated from Clemson in 1930 with a B.S. degree in animal husbandry, and by that time he had become so wrapped up in athletics that he would spend a lifetime in the coaching profession, all at one school.

Jones' high school at Starr didn't have a football team and he had only seen one game in his life before he enrolled at Clemson and that was when he came to Clemson in 1923 to spend the night with his brother and saw the famed Praying Colonels of Centre College under Bo McMillin play the Tigers.

But before he completed his eligibility, Jones had been named to the All-South Atlantic team in football, served as alternate captain and was captain of the basketball team when Fike Field House was dedicated. Josh Cody was his coach.

Cody gave Jones his first job at Clemson as freshman basketball coach. "I drew my first paycheck from Clemson in December, 1930," Jones recalls. "It was for $75, plus room and board."

Cody decided to leave Clemson after the 1930 season and Jess Neely was hired off the Alabama staff to be athletic director and head coach. Cody recommended that Neely keep Jones on the staff. Later Joe Davis, who had played under Neely at Southwestern in Memphis, was hired and Frank Howard came in that summer after he graduated from Alabama.

The Neely-Howard-Jones-Davis quartet stayed together until Neely was named head coach at Rice in 1940 and Davis went with him. That pair stayed together coaching the Owls until 1967 when they retired from the Rice staff. Jones and Howard are still on the staff at Clemson, although neither is active in coaching now.

Bob Jones coached some outstanding ends during his stay on the staffs of Josh Cody, Jess Neely and Frank Howard. Two of them were Whitey Jordan (89) and Ray Masneri (87).

Jones handled the Clemson freshman football team 1933-39. He coached the boxing team from 1938 until 1948 when the sport was dropped for safety reasons. He was golf coach from 1931 through 1941, then picked it back up again in 1970. When Howard was promoted to head coach in 1940, he made Jones his varsity end coach, and there he remained until Howard retired as head coach in 1969. Since then Jones has been assistant to the athletic director, in addition to his golf coaching. He is now in his 44th year on the staff.

Jones can spin a lot of "war stories," both real and otherwise for anyone who cares to listen. He recalls the entire student body going to Columbia and camping on the State Fair grounds during Big Thursday week; about the counterfeit tickets one year at the South Carolina game and a guy selling soft drinks from the hash mark; about the time in World War II when he didn't take his clothes off for 23 consecutive days; or getting caught in a snow storm in Omaha, Neb., in 1948 when he went to scout Missouri against Nebraska and having to "tip" a guy $25 to carry him from Omaha to Lincoln in order to see the game; or flying to Boston the first time to scout Boston College on a DC-3 which made 13 landings and took nine and a half hours . . . on the same plane.

Players? He's coached some good ones—Glenn Smith, Rabbit Thompson, Ronnie Ducworth, Dreher Gaskin, Ray Masneri, Bob Hudson, Joe Blalock, Scott Jackson—the list is endless.

Jones said if he had to do it all over again, he'd follow the same route. But he also observes that "coaching is the only multi-million dollar business in the world that is run by 19-year-old kids. They're the ones you depend on for your livelihood. If they don't produce, you're going to get fired. That's about what it amounts to."

But getting fired over coaching is not worrying Bob Jones now. He'll be 65 November 19th and he'll officially retire next June. Then he and his wife, the former Ellen Moseley of Anderson, hope to retire to their recently-purchased home on Lake Hartwell which has been named "Fumble Inn." There his three daughters (Janet, Rose and Robin) and their husbands, along with the four grandchildren, can come, because as Jones says: "If I get outside of Pickens County, it's too far from home."

That third retirement isn't too far away, General. Enjoy it!!

What – A ski championship?

Most Clemson fans are still talking about the Tigers' Atlantic Coast Conference soccer championship last fall. And the regular season ACC baseball crown is common knowledge to the Clemson follower. But how many individuals knew of the skiing championship? That's right. A skiing championship—snow skiing, that is.

In fact, there's not too many people who could relate a play-by-play of the actual competition or who could explain the scoring rules and techniques involved in this challenging sport.

Anyway, it all began with the formation of a ski club at Clemson for those students interested in the sport as a hobby. And since our peaceful little Southern college town is not exactly located in the heart of ski country, some ski nuts would join the club just for the advantage of obtaining discounts on renting the equipment and on the fees, which would help defray the gasoline expense incurred by the long journey over the mountain to the ski lodges.

Then comes the want for actual competition against outsiders—or those not belonging to your own club. Therefore, the various colleges ski clubs put their heads together and decided to test their skills against each other. The result—the Southern Intercollegiate Ski Meet.

Each team consists of four skiers who race down two separate courses—the giant slalom and the downhill. The difference being that the giant slalom has more gates to passthrough, which are also closer together, than the downhill—almost a straight course with just a few control gates at the turns.

Then, the times of each skier on each of the two courses are added together. Individual champions are those from each race who has the lowest time on that particular course, whereas team scoring is the average score of the top two skiers from each team. An overall individual winner is also determined by the skier with the lowest combined time on both courses.

Well, a year ago, 1972, Mark Bishop, a Clemson freshman from Pittsfield, Mass., was the surprise of the meet as the talented skier walked away with the overall individual trophy, although the University of Tennessee captured the team title.

But this past winter it was a different story. Staged at North Carolina's famed Beech Mountain in late February, the fifth annual event was hosted by Lees-McRae College. Along with Clemson, and host Lees-McRae, were Tennessee, Appalachian State, University of the South, Virginia, Tennessee Wesleyan, George Mason, Florida State, and Catawba.

And along with Bishop came Wolfgang Funk, Eric Rhodin, and Paul Aaron. But it was Funk, a native of Stuttgart, Germany, who teamed with Bishop as the Tigers' top two skiers, to really shock the rest of the field and the spectators as well.

That first day everyone knew that the Tigers were for real. In the giant slalom, Bishop finished with the third best time of :28.4 with Funk right behind in fourth with a :28.8. That gave Clemson a team average time of :28.6, a full one second better than second place Tennessee's :29.6.

The second day, despite rain and treacherous conditions in the downhill race, Bishop toured the course in a time of :44.2, which deadlocked him in second place with Appalachian's Mike Fisher. Funk was again right behind with a :44.6.

Although UT's Bill Akers captured individual honors with a combined time of :71.8 in both the slalom and downhill races, with ASU's Fisher next at :72.5, Bishop ended up third with a combined time of :72.6 and Funk was fourth at :73.4, a good four second ahead of the fifth place finisher.

Bishop and Funk scored an average time of :73.03 to give Clemson the team title in the 1973 Southern Intercollegiate Meet, with the defending champion Volunteers finishing second at :74.55.

"Everyone knew what Mark could do," explained Funk, who is a dash man on the Clemson track team. "But the competition didn't expect too much from the rest of us."

Evidently Funk forgot to tell the opposition that he grew up in the heart of ski country and has been actively involved in the sport since he was five years old. And his impressive times came just five short days after his arrival from Germany, and, as the Stuttgart native observed, "I was still not adjusted to the time change and hadn't been on a pair of skis for quite some time." Imagine what he could do with practice.

Regardless, Bishop's expected super performance, coupled with Funk's surprise addition and ability, brought the trophy for 1973 to Clemson. That's not a bad showing for a forestry major from Massachusetts, and a dash man on the track team, since both ski for a hobby.

The Wake Forest Series

The two freshman coaches of the Atlantic Coast Conference meet this afternoon, each having accepted positions at their respective schools since last football season.

Red Parker will be holding court on the press box side of the field with his Clemson Tigers while Chuck Mills has the Deacons in their pews on the opposite side of the field.

Mills replaced Tom Harper after a two-year stint, coming in from Utah State where he had a highly successful program.

Actually this is Mills' 13th season as a head coach, the same as Parker.

Mills started his collegiate coaching at Pomona College in Claremont, Calif., where in three years he was 12-15-0. He then moved to Indiana State University for a pair of seasons, posting a 12-3-2. His one year at Kings Point resulted in a 3-7 record before his six-year stay at Utah State.

The 44-year-old Mills had only one losing season (his third) with the Aggies. He posted an overall 39-22-1 record at Logan with an enviable 17-5-0 mark his last two years.

He came to Wake Forest riding an overall record of 66-47-3, nearly what Parker had (68-53-2) in his 12 seasons, first at Arkansas A&M, then at The Citadel.

Some outstanding performances can be expected this afternoon. Chuck Ramsey is called "the best in the nation" by Parker.

The Knoxville, Tenn., native has led the Atlantic Coast Conference in punting the past two seasons, and he is well ahead of anyone else in his quest for a third title. Right now he is averaging 46 yards a boot. He also handles all placements for the Deacons.

Fullback Frank Harsh made himself known around the league last year as a freshman. This hard-nosed runner is averaging nearly four yards a carry this year.

But whether it be Ramsey, Harsh, defensive end John Hardin, running back Clayton Heath or quarterback Andy Carlton of the Deacons with the big play; or Nelson Wallace, Smiley Sanders, Ken Peeples, Jim Ness or Bennie Cunningham for the Tigers, fans have learned to expect exciting football when there's a Tiger-Deacon meeting in town.

Although Clemson leads in the overall series, 27-10-1, the Deacons possibly think the worm hasn't turned often enough for them.

Of the 15 games that have ended with a margin of seven points or less, Clemson has won 10 of them. In three games played in Death Valley in 1957-58-59, the Tigers won all three by a total of 11 points. And a book could be written on any one of the three.

But today is another season, another game and two coaches facing each other for the first time. But there's no reason not to expect a typical Tiger-Deacon meeting.

MEET . . . JAY KREIS

CLEMSON
LINEBACKER

Jay Kreis is making the most of his college career. While studying for his academic degree at Clemson, he is also preparing to fulfill his military obligation as a commissioned officer in the U. S. Army. Jay is enrolled in the course that trains him to be a leader.

ARMY ROTC

And as you already know, Jay does find time for his favorite sports. Jay transferred to Clemson from Ole Miss and spent the 1972 season on the scout team. He went through spring practice and looked promising enough to be assured of playing some linebacker for the Tigers. But in the first day of practice, he broke a bone in his foot, and is being forced to sit out another year.

BUT a student at Clemson University does not have to be a varsity athlete to get more from his college experience than an academic degree. Army ROTC at Clemson University provides an opportunity to make a college education a degree better by obtaining a commission as a second lieutenant in the United States Army upon graduation.

Clemson's Mother of the Year

Each year, the Tiger Brotherhood, Clemson's honorary service and leadership fraternity, selects a person to receive its annual "Mother-of-the-Year" Award.

The recipient is chosen by both student and faculty members of the local organization and is given to one who has contributed most to the university through her own action or those of her children.

This year's Clemson mother is Mrs. Mary Arthur Atkins of Dillon, wife of William R. Atkins, Jr., to whom she has been married for 25 years. He is employed by Burlington Industries.

Mrs. Atkins was born in Florence and attended Limestone College. She is now a sales representative for Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Welcome to Clemson University

Welcome to Clemson University and to an afternoon of football in "Death Valley." It is always a pleasure to have you on the campus and to know that you share with us the sense of pride which we have for all the young athletes who wear the uniform of the Clemson Tigers. Their hard work and dedicated effort, as they prepare each week for Saturday's game, reflect what we feel is the true spirit of all Clemson students as they strive to attain the goals which they have set for themselves.

A commitment to excellence not only in the classroom and the laboratory but also on the playing field and in the athletic contest is in the finest tradition of Clemson University.

It is a commitment which was first made for us by our founder, Thomas Green Clemson, who almost a century ago saw the great need in this state for a scientifically oriented institution of higher learning to provide our young people with the training which was needed to build a better society. From then until now Clemson students have been challenged to do their best in whatever task they were engaged.

As the years have passed the scope and mission of Clemson's service to the state and the nation have been enlarged. Institutions like individuals do not stand still. We are now engaged in teaching, research, and public service in those areas most often associated with a land-grant university actively seeking to meet the needs of the people it serves. As those needs have varied or changed we have adjusted our capabilities for service.

Today Clemson University is in the strongest position to serve the citizens of this state and nation and the people of the world that it has ever occupied. Our undergraduate programs are of the highest quality. In our graduate studies and research efforts we have made significant progress within the last twenty years. And we are now engaged in greatly expanding our ability to meet the continuing educational needs of the adults in our society. To this end and with the aid of a very generous appropriation which was authorized by the General Assembly we are preparing to erect very shortly on this campus a Continuing Education Center which will give us superb facilities for educational programs specifically designed to meet the needs of all adults who want to prepare themselves to serve better wherever they are and whatever they are doing.

One of the strongest bonds which has served to unite all of us who are Clemson supporters has been our common interest in the success of our athletic teams. For many of us this interest is but an outward and visible symbol of a deeper love and affection which we have for the entire University and all that it stands for in our lives and in the world.

IPTAY--

Special Recognition

The Clemson IPTAY Club surpassed its membership goal for 1972-73, and for the ninth straight year, an increase was seen in funds contributed to the club.

With a goal set for $565,000, the final tally read just over $579,000, or 102 per cent of the goal. This marked the second straight year that over a half million dollars had been realized by IPTAY.

Several thousand former Clemson student-athletes, as well as several hundred currently enrolled at the university, depend solely on contributions from individuals and firms for their education. Every penny received by IPTAY since its beginning in 1934 has been used for athletic scholarships only.

Clemson has set an outstanding example for other educational institutions throughout the nation with its IPTAY program. It is probably the finest collegiate booster club in America today.

On the following pages, we have listed those people and business organizations who are being recognized for their interest and continued support of IPTAY.

Bill McLellan, Director of Athletics

In the last two and one half years, things have been happening around the Clemson Athletic Department. For the most part, these things have been in the right direction.

One finger can be pointed at one person for keeping the ship on an even keel—Bill McLellan, director of athletics.

Bill McLellan, Director of Athletics

In the last two and one half years, things have been happening around the Clemson Athletic Department. For the most part, these things have been in the right direction.

One finger can be pointed at one person for keeping the ship on an even keel—Bill McLellan, director of athletics.

McLellan “came up through the ranks” in the athletic department and has learned the intricate operation of a big time athletic program through listening, observing, digesting and analyzing the many problems which surround him 24 hours a day, 365 days of the year.

The Hamer, S. C., native has the knack to listen to four different conversations going on in his office at one time and be talking on another subject on the phone and grasp all that is going on in all five.

McLellan is tough and firm, but he is also fair with all the people he deals with. It's gotta be that way because he has to answer to the university administration, the Atlantic Coast Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association on any matter concerning about 300 athletes.

But at the same time, he is responsible for protecting and seeking to better the athletic interests of Clemson students, university faculty and staff, IPTAY members and other alumni and friends of the school.

There are also the daily problems of nine head coaches and their assistants, and a multitude of other things too numerous to mention. Needless to say, McLellan has little trouble getting in his eight hours everyday.

McLellan has seen a great transition in athletics at Clemson in his 23-year association with the department. From DC-4 airplanes to 600 mile an hour jets, from run-down hotels to modern motels, from a 20,000 to a 43,451 capacity stadium, improved protective equipment, from a non-equipped to an ultra modern training room, from a relative one-sport school to one fielding teams in 11 sports, from booster club support of a few thousand dollars a year to over a half million dollars and modern athletic facilities in all directions.

The old wooden seats in Memorial Stadium were replaced before last season with new aluminum contour seats. A new all-weather, nine-lane track was used for the first time this past spring. Sixteen hard-surfaced tennis courts, all lighted, are available and more are planned. Three new football practice fields, one equipped with the latest lighting techniques, are now in use.

The expanded intramural program is in full swing and with it, the renovation of Fike Field House. Already available for student use are four basketball courts, three with tartan floor. When construction is completed on Fike there will be over a dozen hand ball courts, wrestling room, modern dance room, golf room and other facilities strictly geared for student use.

On the backside of Fike will be the new swimming facilities with a 60x42 foot diving tank and a pool 75'1" long by 60' wide, along with a 650-capacity spectator area.

Expected to be occupied during football season this fall is the Jervey Athletic Center which will house the athletic department administrative offices, coaches' offices, dressing facilities for all sports, ticket office, an auxiliary gym, a dirt area for inside workouts, training and equipment rooms and other allied facilities necessary for an efficient athletic operation.

McLellan has seen or is seeing all of this happen. And much of it is due to the driving force and record pace that McLellan stays on.

McLellan lettered two years in football under former coach Frank Howard and was a member of the 1952 Tiger Gator Bowl team.

He received his BS in agronomy from Clemson in 1954 and then was awarded a graduate assistantship while working on his MS degree in agricultural economics which he received in 1956. He officially joined the athletic staff May 1, 1958 and was listed as assistant business manager. Between then and the time he was appointed assistant athletic director in 1966 and then director of athletics Feb. 4, 1971, he literally served in almost every available capacity in the department from grounds man to ticket sales to assistant coach. He was qualified in all categories just as he is in his present position.

McLellan is married to the former Ann Rogers of Fork, S. C., and they are the parents of four children, two daughters, Suzy, 18, and Arh Anna, 11, and two sons, Bill, 16, and Cliff, 15.

Red Parker, Head Football Coach

"I promise you that I'll leave no stone unturned, and that I will leave no avenue unexplored, in an attempt to put this program over the top and in a way that Clemson fans, alumni, students, and the guys who get out there and do the sweating deserve. As far as I'm concerned, there's only one way to go -- and brother, that's to win. And we're going to get after that winning."

It was last December, the 5th to be exact, when Jimmy Dale "Red" Parker uttered those words before a large gathering at the Clemson House. Because it was that day that the smiling red head from Hampton, Ark., was named as the Tigers 19th head coach.

But although the move to this beautiful campus in the northwestern part of the State of South Carolina was a new stop for him, Parker is not a newcomer to the head coaching ranks. In his 20 previous years of his successful coaching career, he has never served as anything less than a head mentor.

In 1953, following graduation from Arkansas A&M, where he earned three letters each in football, baseball, and track, Parker began his illustrious career, at the age of 21, at Fordyce, Ark., High School.

Before assuming the reins at Fordyce, the Arkansas school had dropped 22 games in a row. But when the dynamic red head had completed his eighth, and final, season in the prep ranks, Parker's achievements included a 37-game winning streak, three championships, and a won-lost mark of 75-12-4.

He was named head coach at his alma mater in 1961, where he stayed through the 1965 season, and saw Arkansas A&M post a five-year record of 29 wins, 19 losses, and two ties. But his last three campaigns were his best as the school claimed two conference titles and had a won-lost record of 24-5-1.

Parker's third head coaching position came at The Citadel -- The Military College of South Carolina. In his initial campaign, 1966, the Bulldogs battled through a 4-6 season. But in only his second year, 1967, The Citadel recorded more wins (5) than any other Bulldog team had managed since the 1961 unit went 7-3 on the year.

Then in 1968, Parker inserted the famed "Citadel Veer" offense. He refined and worked with that potent offense until it reached almost total perfection in 1971. That season, the Bulldogs amassed 5,030 total yards, which ranked The Citadel fourth in the nation in that department, scored 366 points, and posted a 8-3 record.

But with the close of the 1972 grid season, a seven-year stint at the small military college, which saw Parker instill fear in his opponents and record an overall mark of 39-34 with the dreaded "Citadel Veer," also came to a close.

The Tigers have changed their coach, but not their stripes; and although Parker has changed schools, the personable red head has not changed his enthusiasm nor his dedication. He's still the Vince Lombardi-Knute Rockne-George Patton-influenced coach he was when he began his career at the age of 21.

"I wouldn't predict that we're going to whip cream," related Parker, when questioned about the prospects of beating a certain opponent in 1973. "But I guarantee you one thing -- anybody that does whip us had better bring a lunch, because it's going to be a long afternoon." That's Red Parker.

Parker is married to the former Betty Goggans of Rison, Ark. They have two daughters, Vicki and Cindy, and a son, Jim Mack.

THE RED LOBSTER is a Harbor for Seafood Lovers. We Specialize in Fresh Florida Seafood but some of our Seafoods come from distant points of the compass, such as Maine, Maryland, Alaska, Peru, Chile and even South Africa to name but a few.

Each dish is prepared from knowledge gained and recipes developed dating back as far as 1945 when our first Seafood Restaurant was established in Florida.

DWIGHT ADAMS Linebacker Coach

A jovial and personable individual, Dwight Adams joined the Clemson staff this past January, coming from The Citadel where he served for the past seven seasons under first-year Tiger mentor Red Parker.

Adams, a native of Dover, Ark., held the title of assistant defensive coach and specialized in the ends and linebackers.

An all-conference grid selection as a collegian, Adams graduated from Henderson State with a BS in education in 1958.

His coaching career began at Pine Bluff, Ark., High School where he spent four seasons. And from there he journeyed to Lake Charles, La., as a prep coach for one season before joining Parker at The Citadel.

Since he began his coaching career, Adams has coached eight high school or college All-Americans, including two all-pro players.

Adams is married to the former Jo Bickham of Tillar, Ark., and they are the parents of three children—two daughters, Jana, 14; and Ruth, 10; and a son, Scott, 12.

TOM BASS Defensive End Coach

Now the senior member of the Clemson staff, Tom Bass enters his seventh campaign with the Tigers, and under his third different head coach.

Bass came to Clemson from Tennessee and was head freshman coach from 1967 through the 1969 season under Frank Howard.

His next three years were spent under Hootie Ingram as defensive interior line coach and first-year coach Red Parker has switched Bass to the position of defensive end mentor.

The likable Bass earned his BA degree in biology from Maryville College in 1960 and was a standout in both baseball and football.

He entered the coaching field at Sevier County High School where he was an assistant one year prior to being named head coach, a position he held for the next four seasons.

Bass led his prep team to an overall four-year mark of 35-7-2, and was named East Tennessee's "Coach-of-the-Year" in 1964. He was an assistant at UT one year before coming to Clemson.

Bass, a native of Mooresville, N. C., is married to the former Susan Price of Knoxville, Tenn., and they have three children, Thomas Steven, 7; Laura Jane, 4; and John McAndrew, 3.

LARRY BECKISH Receiver Coach

One of the finest offensive coaches in the game, Larry Beckish, like Tom Bass, will enter the 1973 season under his third different Clemson mentor.

Beckish, a native of Haledon, N. J., received his BA degree in education from Wichita State in 1963 where he was a standout grid performer, serving as captain and being named to the All-Missouri Valley Conference team as a senior.

He remained at his alma mater the next two campaigns as an assistant and then moved to Tampa for a two-year stint as offensive line coach.

Beckish then joined Frank Howard's staff at Clemson in 1968 and served two seasons under the Bashful Baron and one under Hootie Ingram in 1970.

Fran Curci, then the head coach at Miami, acquired the services of Beckish for the 1971 campaign, putting the young coach in charge of the Hurricanes offensive backfield.

He returned to Clemson last fall, serving as head jayvee coach, and led the Cubs to a 3-1-1 mark.

He is married to the former Alice Morley of Wichita, Kan., and they are the parents of two sons, Michael, 8; and Chris, 3.

JOE BURSON Defensive Backfield Coach

If enthusiasm and dedication were tangible assets, then Joe Burson would be the most wealthy person in the world.

Called "one of the finest young coaches in the game" by Clemson mentor Red Parker, Burson, who hails from Newnan, Ga., enters his fourth season on the Tigers grid staff.

A standout defensive back under Vince Dooley at Georgia, he graduated from the Athens institution in 1966 with a BS degree in industrial arts.

The ex-Bulldog was then drafted by the NFL's Washington Redskins, but a knee injury ended his professional career.

Burson's first coaching position came at Griffin, Ga., High School where he spent two seasons before coming to Clemson prior to the 1970 campaign.

In his initial year on the Tiger staff, he served as defensive coordinator for the freshman squad and the next year, 1971, was elevated to the varsity staff as defensive end coach, a position he held through the 1972 season.

Following Parker's first spring practice with the Tigers, the newly-appointed Clemson mentor assigned Burson to the defensive backfield.

Burson was married to the former Denise Johanson of North Caldwell, N. J., in August.

Quarterback Coach DON MURRY

When Red Parker came to Clemson, one of his first moves was to hire offensive-minded Don Murry, who had served under him for the past seven years at The Citadel.

Born in Harrison, Ark., Murry, who was an all-conference prepster in both football and basketball at Warren High School, earned four grid letters in football at Arkansas A&M under Parker.

He received his BS degree in education in 1966, and then served as a graduate assistant at his alma mater the following year.

Murry then joined his old grid coach at The Citadel and soon built the reputation as being one of the top young offensive coaches in the game.

He served on Parker's Bulldog staff as flanker and receiver coach. Murry's top product during his seven years at The Citadel was All-American Brian Baima, who led the nation in most yards receiving (1,237 yards) on 64 catches in 1971.

Murry is married to the former Libby Gibbs of Crossett, Ark. They are the parents of one son, Barry, 3, and one daughter, Leslie Anne, born Sept. 9th.

Offensive Line Coach DUKE OWEN

One of the most popular and well-liked personalities on the Clemson campus, Duke Owen begins his fourth season as a Tiger Assistant.

The Lebanon, Ky., native received his BS degree in mathematics from Georgetown, Ky., College in 1953, entered the coaching field in the prep ranks, and immediately established himself as one of the top coaches in the game.

He guided Mount Sterling, Ky., High School to a nine-year record of 76-29-4, and to the state playoffs in three of his first five seasons.

The "Iron Duke" jumped to the college scene in 1964 at Kentucky and remained there through the 1968 season. Owen spent the 1969 campaign at Cincinnati where he served as offensive line coach.

Armed with nothing more than determination and a handful of dedicated players, Owen came to Clemson in 1970 and guided the freshman unit to an impressive 4-1 mark, which included three shutout wins in the final three games of the year. He assumed duties of the varsity offensive line in 1971.

Owen is married to the former Florence Deeb of Louisville, Ky., and they have two sons, David, 15; and Mitchell, 13.

Offensive Running Back Coach STEVE SATTERFIELD

After having earned the distinct honor of being recognized as one of the top high school coaches in the game, Steve Satterfield joined the Clemson staff prior to the 1971 season.

A product of Greer, Satterfield played his college ball at South Carolina where he quarterbacked the Gamecocks for three seasons, being named to the All-Atlantic Coast Conference Scholastic team in 1958.

Satterfield was a prep assistant for four years before taking over the head duties at Greenville's Wade Hampton High School.

The following season, Satterfield moved to Sumter and guided Edmunds High to a six-year mark of 45-19-3.

Included in his tenure at Edmunds, was an undefeated 12-0 mark in 1969 and a 4-A state championship trophy.

Satterfield, who holds his masters degree from Appalachian State, was head freshman coach at Clemson in his initial season, was elevated as offensive backfield coach last fall, and now will work with Tiger running backs.

He is married to the former Barbara Woodall of Taylors, and they have three children, Keleigh, 13; Steven, 9; and Susan Joy, 1½.

Defensive Line Coach HAROLD STEELMAN

A man who always has a smile on his face, Harold Steelman, like Dwight Adams and Don Murry, came with Red Parker from The Citadel following the 1972 season.

The Pine Bluff, Ark., native spent two years at Little Rock Junior College as a grid performer before heading on to Arkansas, where he graduated in 1955 with a BS in education.

While with the Razorbacks, Steelman played on Arkansas' 1954 Cotton Bowl team. He spent two years each in the prep coaching ranks at Texarkana, Lewisville, and Eldorado High Schools before joining Parker on the staff at Arkansas A&M.

He remained with the red head at the Arkansas school and also came with him to The Citadel in 1966.

Steeleman spent his past seven seasons with the Bulldogs, holding the title as head defensive coach with overall defensive responsibilities and specializing with the interior line.

He is married to the former Carolyn Corley of Little Rock, Ark., and they are the parents of a daughter, Sara Lyn, 17; and a son, Hal, 14.

ED EMORY Jayvee Coordinator

Considered one of the top prep coaches in the South, Ed Emory joined the Clemson staff this past July from Brevard, N. C., High School.

Following graduation from East Carolina in 1960, where he was a standout linemen for the Pirates, Emory was an assistant at Kinston, N. C., High School three years, before being named as head mentor at Wadesboro, N. C., High.

Emory held that position for a total of four seasons and was then tabbed as head coach at Wadesboro's Bowman High School in 1968. Then after a one-year stint at Wake Forest, Emory went to Brevard where he has posted a 35-7 mark over the past four seasons.

Three times he has been named as a conference coach-of-the-year, twice in Wadesboro, and once at Brevard, and in 1971 Emory was tabbed as the Western North Carolina Coach-of-the-Year. His overall coaching record is 75-17-2.

He is married to the former Virginia Jones of Greenville, N. C., and they have one daughter, Lucille, 11; and a son, Battle, 7.

RONNIE CARTER Asst. Jayvee Coach and Recruiter

All the way from the seventh grade to the staff at Clemson, Ronnie Carter has been with Red Parker—either as a player or as a coach.

A native of Fordyce, Ark., Carter played for the red head at Fordyce High School, where the former lettered in football, basketball, and track, prior to his graduation in 1961.

After spending a year and a half at the University of Arkansas, Carter transferred to Arkansas A&M where he was a standout running back for Parker before graduating in 1967.

He entered the coaching field the next year at Monticello, Ark., and after serving as an assistant, was elevated to head coach where he battled through a 3-7-1 record in his initial year, but came back with a fine 7-4 mark the next season.

Carter then moved to Charleston where he served as an assistant at St. Andrews for one year, assumed the head duties the next, and posted a two-year mark of 16-5 as the Rocks mentor.

Carter is married to the former Diane Rash of Monticello, Ark., and they have one daughter, Jennifer, 18 months.

TOM MOORE Assistant Jayvee Coach

It was almost like a homecoming for Tom Moore when Red Parker assumed the head coaching reins at Clemson last December. Because Moore, a native of Dayton, O., played college ball under the red head at The Citadel.

Moore, who preped at Beaver Falls, Pa., High School and played on the same team with New York Jet quarterback Joe Namath, earned three letters at The Citadel as a halfback and wide receiver.

As a senior, Moore was selected as one of the co-captains for the Cadets and also earned All-Southern Conference recognition.

Following graduation in 1967 with a BS in political science, Moore served as a graduate assistant at his alma mater one season.

He was then named as offensive coordinator at Aurora Central, Colo., High School and stayed there one year before moving to the college ranks at Wichita State.

At WSU, Moore was head freshman mentor in 1968, and then receiver coach for the varsity in 1969 and 1970.

He joined the Clemson staff prior to the 1971 season.

Moore is married to the former Joyce Stewart of Clemson and they have one son, Rhett.

WILLIAM SWINGER Assistant Jayvee Coach

The newest addition to Red Parker's Clemson staff is the personable William Swinger, who joined the family this past summer from Will Roberts' successful program at Anderson's Westside High School.

Swinger was a three-sport standout as a prepster at Westside and quarterbacked the grid team to the state championship his senior season in 1961. He then entered South Carolina State on a football scholarship, where he was tabbed both all-state and all-conference as a signal-caller and a defensive safety prior to receiving his BS degree in physical education in 1965.

New Deal High School in Starr was his first stop in the coaching ranks where he served as both the head football and basketball coach for two seasons before moving on to his alma mater as an assistant.

After a two-year stint in the U. S. Army, including some time in Viet Nam, Swinger returned to Westside where he has been coaching for the past three years.

He is married to the former Lois Yvonne Carter of Anderson and they are the parents of one daughter, Monique, 2½.

CLYDE WRENN Recruiting Coordinator

An around-the-clock and diligent worker, Clyde Wrenn enters his second season on the Clemson staff, and has just completed his first full year as the Tigers chief recruiter.

The Chester native played baseball at Spartanburg Junior College, transferred to N. C. State after two years, and earned his BS degree in recreation and park administration in 1965.

The year after his graduation, Wrenn was named as head assistant football and head baseball coach at Florence's Southside High School.

Wrenn, who earned his masters from Western Carolina, remained at Southside for five seasons before accepting the position as athletic director and head football coach at West Florence High School.

Then following a two-year tour of duty there, he came to Clemson prior to the 1972 campaign as an assistant jayvee coach and also worked with both recruiting and scouting.

Wrenn is married to his former hometown sweetheart, Willa Lynn, and they are the parents of two sons, Craig, 4; and Cal, 1.

Head Trainer FRED HOOVER

Recognized by his peers as one of the top trainers in the country, Fred Hoover begins his 15th season as a valuable member of the Clemson staff.

"Doc" Hoover earned his BS degree in physical education from Florida State in 1953, where he served as trainer in 1952-53 and again in 1957-58.

The Jacksonville, Fla., native is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, and has served as a past district director and past national president of the NATA, and has just completed a year as the national convention chairman of that organization.

Hoover handled the training duties for the United States at the Pan American games in Sao Paulo, Brazil in 1963, and was selected to serve on the staff in the Olympic games in Munich, Germany last summer.

He is married to the former Elva Cook of Mt. Vernon, Ill., and they have one daughter, Catherine Ann, 15; and one son, Bryan, 12.

Assistant Trainer HERMAN MCGEE

"Mr. Clemson," Herman McGee, has taped more ankles of Clemson athletes than of all other trainers combined, because Herm has been with the Tigers for the past 39 years.

In his tenure, the Pendleton native has served as assistant trainer, head trainer, and equipment manager.

He can tell you everything about every Clemson athlete since he has been with Clemson, and about all seven bowl appearances the Tigers have made—from the 1940 Cotton through the 1959 Bluebonnet.

McGee is married to the former Lucia Greene of Pendleton.

Assistant Trainer WALTER MCOMBS

The most recent addition to Fred Hoover's top-flight training staff came in the form of smiling redheaded Walt McCombs, who joined the Clemson staff this past August from the University of Kentucky.

A native of Belton, McCombs spent his prep days in Greenville where he graduated from Parker High School in 1967. He then enrolled at The Citadel, where he served as a student trainer four years, and earned his B.S. degree in physical education in 1971.

Following graduation from The Military College of South Carolina, he joined the Kentucky staff as a graduate assistant on the training staff, working with football, and held that position for some three months before being named as head basketball trainer.

McCombs, who is single, served as head cage trainer for the Wildcats the past two seasons.

Equipment Manager TOM BURTON

A dedicated worker, Tom Burton enters his fifth season as equipment manager on the Clemson athletic staff. "Sarge" handles his equipment in the same manner he handled his recruits during a 22-year career in the U. S. Army—in top shape.

The Richmond, Va., native served in eight foreign countries in the military, including Asiatic-Pacific area, Germany, and three tours of the Far East.

Burton was no newcomer to the college scene as he has served on the Furman ROTC staff one year, and on the Clemson ROTC staff seven years. At Clemson, Burton was also chaperone for the Tiger band.

He is married to the former Bea Davis of Lynchburg, Va., and they are the parents of two daughters, Jan, 20; and Jerry, 19.

Academic Advisor RICK ROBBINS

Some call him "Braincoach," and some call him "Colonel." Regardless of the title, Rick Robbins coaches more than 300 Clemson athletes each year as the Tigers academic advisor.

In his spare time, the Austin, Tex., native serves as Clemson's assistant track coach.

Robbins graduated from the University of Texas and retired from the U. S. Army with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Robbins is responsible for the many Clemson athletes graduating with honor and has aided, successfully, in the negotiations between many Tiger athletes and professional teams.

He is married to the former Clare Eaves of Palestine, Tex. They have two sons, Dick, 19, a Clemson sophomore; and Tommy 15.

ACC Comments: The ACC Game I Remember The Most

MEL DERRICK

GEORGE MCCLELLAND

MEL DERRICK: Sports Director, Winston-Salem Journal-Sentinel: Wake Forest 20, Clemson 20, Sept. 21, 1968. The day Frank Howard decided kissing his sister wasn't so bad after all. Wake Forest, which had lost six straight games to Clemson, held a 20-13 lead late in the final quarter, thanks to a marvelous performance by Freddie Summers. Then, with time running out, Clemson, aided by a crucial personal foul penalty, marched 71 yards for a touchdown and a 20-19 score. But Howard, the Tiger coach who previously had said, "A tie is like kissing your sister," passed up a chance to win. He scorned a try for a two-point conversion, going instead for the safer one-point kick. Fundeburke made it. It was the second game played in Wake's Groves Stadium, the first ever televised from there . . . and the only tie in the 38-game Wake Forest-Clemson series.

GEORGE MCCLELLAND, Sports Editor, Norfolk Virginian-Pilot: The thousands of white handkerchiefs waving in the autumn breeze were the indelible part. It was as though the sign of surrender had been turned on the conqueror, become a symbol of the rise of the oppressed people. Which, of course, was what the University of Virginia eleven effected that November day in 1961. Still vivid were the scars of 28 consecutive defeats, three of them fearfully lopsided mismatches with Maryland. Now the Terrapins were 7-2, one victory away from a Gator Bowl bid. It would be so easy, this one. Only it wasn't. Gary Cuzzo threw three touchdown passes to a green end named John Hepler. Ted Rzemopoluch ran an interception back 96 yards. The final score was Virginia 28, Maryland 16, a Cavalier point for each of those links in the chain of defeat. Early in the third period the handkerchiefs began to wave in Scott Stadium. They were aimed at Tom Nugent, the Maryland coach, but they were more than that. A message really, that a bad dream was over.

ELTON CASEY, Executive Sports Editor, Durham Morning Herald: Most thrilling Duke football game I ever covered? There have been several, but the one that best comes to mind took place Oct. 2, 1971, in Palo Alto, Calif., home base of the Stanford Indians. That day two-touchdown underdog Duke, listed 19th in the weekly AP poll, stunned the 10th-rated Indians, 9-3. It was a game Duke wasn't figured to win. Both teams entered the intersectional headliner with perfect 3-0 marks. The Blue Devils were without the services of star running back Steve Jones, who earlier in the week had been injured in an automobile accident. Ernie Jackson intercepted a Don Bunce aerial and returned it 54 yards for a Duke touchdown early in the opening quarter. Stanford, in addition to the pass interception, lost three fumbles in the first half to alert Duke defenders, who pulled up their boot straps and impressed West Coasters with their rock 'em, sock 'em brand of head hunting.

ELTON CASEY

DAN FOSTER

DAN FOSTER, Sports Editor, The Greenville News: Maybe it was because of all the ironies, or may it was simply the incredible excitement of the 60 minutes, but the 1959 Clemson-Wake Forest game is "The ACC Game I Remember The Most." Wake had lost eight straight years to Clemson, and on this ninth game of the 1959 season, it appeared Wake's moment of liberation was at hand. The Deacons had taken a 31-27 lead with 6:40 to play. Then, the second play after receiving the Wake kickoff, Clemon fumbled and Wake recovered. The Deacs thus had the lead, and the ball, deep in Clemson territory. For Wake, it was time to kill time. But Chuck Relley, the reserve Wake quarterback, stunned the crowd of 34,000 with a pass. Clemson's George Usry electrified the crowd with an interception and a runback of 66 yards to the Wake 10. He scored the winning touchdown two plays later, and Clemson emerged with a 33-31 victory, called by Frank Howard, "the most exciting I've ever seen."

JOE TIEDE, Sports Editor, The Raleigh News and Observer: Back in 1957 Duke and N. C. State met in old Riddick Stadium in an unusual setting. It was the sixth game of the season and both were unbeaten. An overflow crowd of 21,000 saw the favored Blue Devils take a 14-0 lead in the first half. Quarterback Bob Brodhead scored from the one and later connected with Bill Thompson on a 57-yard touchdown pass. But just before the half ended, an electrifying play put new life in the Wolfpack, outplayed to that point. The great halfback combination of Dick Hunter and Dick Christy struck for a 52-yard touchdown pass that suddenly put State back in the game. In the third period State scored again, once more on a pass from Hunter to Christy. Hunter booted his second extra point, tying the game 14-14. The game ended that way, leaving the two ACC leaders still unbeaten.

HUGO GERMINO, Sports Editor, The Durham Sun: Don McCauley committed mayhem and Paul Miller performed feats of magic in one of the most memorable ACC football games I can recall. It was the fall of 1970 when North Carolina's Tar Heels mauled Duke, 59-34, in a fitting climax to the end of McCauley's brilliant varsity career in Kenan Stadium. He rushed for 279 yards and scored five touchdowns. He was unstoppable, on the inside and on his thrusts through tackle to the outside. Miller's magic added spice to the Tar Heel cause. In the first half, he scored on a hidden ball trick that even Sherlock Holmes could not have solved. In the second half, he dashed 60 yards on a keeper play that completely demoralized Duke's frustrated legions. It truly was M-M Day in Chapel Hill on Nov. 21, 1972 — McCauley and Miller.

PHIL JACOBS, Sports Editor, University of Maryland Diamondback: Maryland tailback Louis Carter's second touchdown scamper of the second half coupled with a Steve Mike-Mayer extra point kick culminated a 23-minute, 21-point come-from-behind rally as the Terps stunned Virginia, 24-23, before 21,500 Cavalier Homecoming fans last fall. The comeback began when the Terps, down 23-3 with 7:55 to go in the third quarter, scored on a Jamie Franklin sweep; two Carter runs of two and 25 yards and three Mike-Mayer extra points. The game exemplified the efforts of first-year coach Jerry Claiborne to hopefully stage a comeback in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Terps reversed a lowly image into a winning one with a 3-2-1 ACC jog and a 5-5-1 overall mark for their first winning season in 10 years. The comeback in the Virginia game is therefore the most easily remembered.

ARA-Slater's philosophy is a unique, systematic approach designed to achieve our most important goal: STUDENT SATISFACTION. This concept is a result of our experience with millions of students. We have the flexibility to understand your needs and the capability to satisfy them.

At Clemson, ARA demonstrates practical, new methods for providing nourishing, well-balanced meals to athletes, students and staff. Our corporate and regional specialists give ARA's dining service manager expert advice in planning menus, purchasing goods, controlling waste, utilizing labor. The support of this team effort is carried out daily in Schilletter Hall and Harcombe Commons, and at the Clemson House Buffeteria. It is our desire to serve students what they want and to accommodate them by providing this same efficient service for special events or festive holiday meals.

We're here to provide the type of service that will benefit the entire school and community. THAT'S WHAT WE THINK A DINING SERVICE IS ALL ABOUT.

Clemson

Alumni Association

This organization

of Clemson alumni exists for only two purposes: to serve Clemson University and its students and to serve Clemson alumni. It does the second by providing an organization, records, programs and publications through which the alumni may stay abreast of the progress of their University and of their own personal, civic and professional development. It does the first by sponsoring the Clemson Alumni Loyalty Fund, dedicated to furthering the student welfare and educational mission of the University.

Summed up

Clemson's overall educational capability has been enhanced by some $3.3 million since the Loyalty Fund began in 1956. By and large, this has accrued to the benefit of Clemson students. To this end, I invite every Clemson alumnus and alumna to make a gift to Clemson each year through the Loyalty Fund. The only direct beneficiary is Clemson University and her students and alumni by reflection. This year's fund ends December 31. If you have not yet made your 1973 gift, please do so now/Lawrence V. Starkey '56, National Alumni President.

Thomas G. Clemson

Associates

The National Council of the Clemson Alumni Association has recently established the Thomas Green Clemson Associates program to recognize those alumni who make significant gifts to Clemson through the Alumni Loyalty Fund over long periods of time. Each Associate of the founder of Clemson University who has been an Associate for five or more years receives a handsome personalized plaque that signifies his or her years of giving at this level in increments of five years. The bottom of the plaque provides space for five, ten, fifteen, twenty, and twenty-five year medallions. There are today 311 Thomas Green Clemson Associates who are making Loyalty Fund gifts of $100 or more each year.

The plaque reads:

"... Name ... joins the founder of Clemson University in a dedication to higher education by making an annual gift of significance to the Clemson Alumni Loyalty Fund." Each alumnus and alumna is invited to become a Thomas Green Clemson Associate by making the desire known to the Alumni Association.

"Oscar" - Clemson's most unusual pet

Snakes Alive! There's nothing odd about having a pet that you can hug. But it is most unusual to have one that can turn the tables and hug its owner.

Such is the case for Ken Peeples, a 6-2, 243-pound offensive lineman for Red Parker's Clemson Tigers. That's right. Peeples is the proud owner of Oscar—a three foot boa constrictor. You know, that's the kind of snake that crushes its prey.

However, there's really nothing strange about Peeples' love for animals, because he's a zoology major.

A native of Timonium, Md., Peeples went to Georgia's Riverside Military Academy for his junior and senior years in high school, where he was a standout lineman on the RMA football team.

"I received a few college offers to play football," related the husky lineman, "but most were from small schools. I wanted to attend a college that had a good football program as well as a strong academic program."

Peeples entered Clemson without a scholarship and went out for football, hoping to land a spot on the team. Well, he did better than that. He fought back from a wrist injury which sidelined him his entire sophomore campaign, and landed the starting tackle spot as a red-shirt soph last fall. And right now, Peeples is one of Clemson's starting guards.

Peeples, called "one of the most promising young linemen on the team" a year ago by offensive line coach Duke Owen, purchased Oscar last February from a local pet shop. Then a month or so later, the big guard discovered his pet was a female.

"I'd been so used to calling her Oscar," he related, "That I decided not to change her name. Heck, it might give her some sort of complex if I did."

Oscar, a docile pet, makes her home inside an aquarium in Peeples' room in Mauldin Hall, Clemson's athletic dormitory.

"You wouldn't believe what a great watchdog she makes," her proud owner commented. "I almost have to force people to come into the room, especially when she's out of her aquarium." Peeples normally lets Oscar out for exercise, within the limits of his room.

On the boa's diet, Peeples said his pet will eat two mice per month. "These snakes normally eat just one every 30 days," the Timonium, Md., native remarked. "But Oscar's got a good appetite."

Peeples, who wants to go on to graduate school and someday become a veterinarian, said that he would like to keep Oscar "until she gets big enough and to the point that she tries to eat me.

"She will most likely grow to be between five and six feet long," he noted, and about eight inches in diameter. I'll probably give her to a zoo as she eventually grows larger."

However, Peeples, who has given serious thoughts to raising boas, will most likely still have Oscar in his possession when he graduates from Clemson. And, chances are, he will carry his female watchdog with him to graduate school. It's doubtful that anyone would stand in his way. Because who in the world would want to challenge a 243-pounder and his side-kick—a three foot boa?

Ken Peeples and Oscar

A Clemson University scientist has declared biological warfare on the mosquito.

Professor Clyde Umphlett, 44-year-old head of the Department of Botany, is conducting research with a rare microscopic fungus—which he discovered—that lives in water and has an uncanny ability, like a live torpedo, to track down mosquito larvae and kill them.

If the experiments are successful, this new form of biological control could reduce the need for the endless spraying of mosquito breeding grounds with chemical insecticides or oil.

Future mosquito controllers might simply fly over those areas and drop some of the lethal parasitic fungus into the water, where the fungus would become a sort of permanent, self-sustaining underwater demolition team. The implications for controlling pest species and encephalitis and other disease-carrying mosquitoes are promising.

In one limited field test conducted in Colusa County in Northern California, the fungus has already shown its deadly effectiveness. That area of the country produces from 10-20 per cent of the rice crop grown in the United States. Its vast rice paddies are breeding grounds for literally billions of mosquitoes, including the species that carries western equine encephalitis. Because of the nature of the food crop, poisons and other chemical controls are virtually ruled out in attempts to control the mosquito population.

In one carefully controlled site, part of but isolated from the rest of a paddy, the fungus was introduced. Five days later there were no living mosquito larvae in the site. Not until 18 days later did the researchers find any new larvae.

The World Health Organization (WHO) also has provided funding and tests sites for the fungus experiments which will be getting under way in Djakarta, Indonesia, in the coming year.

Professor Umphlett has been studying the pearl-gray fungus, called Lagenidium, since 1962, when he discovered it in mosquito larvae taken, of all places, from a trash dump near Dublin, Ga. He was a graduate student at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill at the time.

Professor Umphlett has since found the fungus in rare, isolated mosquito samples collected from intermittent streams and swamp pools elsewhere in the Southeast.

Laboratory tests have shown that the fungus has a kill rate of up to 95 per cent among larvae of the southern house mosquito, yellow fever and several other tropical disease carriers, and the southern and northern salt marsh mosquitoes. Large breeding pans containing dead mosquito larvae in Professor Umphlett's laboratory look like something right out of the science-fiction novel The Andromeda Strain.

"Lagenidium has great potential as a biological control agent for mosquito larvae. It's a lethal parasite; it's easy to handle; it can be grown outside the mosquito in the laboratory," says Professor Umphlett.

Because it is easy to grow I think methods can be developed for mass producing and stockpiling it. When we've learned everything there is to know about it, we can then develop a way to disseminate it, possibly by some sort of spraying apparatus," he says.

The quest to learn everything possible about the effects of the fungus is extremely important, he says, because of the possibility, however slight, that it might attack other forms of life or knock out a vital link in the food chain in a lake environment.

"At this stage we don't know what other living things the fungus may attack, but I don't think there's any risk as far as humans or other vertebrates, including fish, are concerned," he notes. "We've also never found it in any other insects."

In addition to its self-regenerating capability in the breeding grounds, the fungus has an important advantage over chemical insecticides, says Professor Umphlett.

"Many insecticides persist in water and can accumulate in fish. Some insecticides are not terribly selective about what they kill. Let's face it, many insect species are desirable, and we may find that Lagenidium attacks only some very troublesome types of mosquitoes," he says.

Professor Umphlett says the research is at the stage now where small-scale field tests are being conducted here at Clemson to determine precisely how well and under what conditions the fungus performs out of the laboratory. The tests are part of a project sponsored by a $10,000 grant from the U. S. Department of the Interior (Office of Water Resources Research) and administered by the Water Resources Research Institute.

Biochemical and physiological studies are being carried out simultaneously by research partners at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The effort there is to try to understand exactly how and why the fungus kills the larvae.

At Clemson, Professor Umphlett is continuing to determine proper "dosage" levels and kill rates for the fungus, how it affects other forms of life, and where and how widespread the fungus is found naturally in South Carolina.

Right: Dr. Umphlett uses an eyedropper to collect mosquito larvae killed by the microscopic fungus he has discovered.

IPTAY = SUCCESS

The 1972-73 IPTAY year closed a week ago yesterday, and for the second straight year, over a half million dollars were contributed by a group of people, who has to be the staunchest athletics supporters in the world.

For the ninth straight year IPTAY funds increased over the previous 12 months.

Contributions totalled over $579,000, which was 102 per cent of a goal set at $565,000, and was $52,000 more than the 1971-72 IPTAY year.

Not only was the goal set by the officers and directors met, but something new was added — the Clemson IPTAY Scholarship Fund — for the purpose of receiving contributions for perpetual and life memberships in each membership category.

The first to give funds for the endowed scholarship was Mr. and Mrs. C. Guy Gunter of Greenville. The Gunter gift was by far the largest ever received by IPTAY in its history and the income from this fund will be sufficient for one full athletic scholarship each year.

Twenty-four counties in the State of South Carolina as well as the states of North Carolina and Georgia exceeded their goals.

Leading the way in the state was Jasper County with 241 per cent. Falling behind Jasper and their percentages were Cherokee (134), Beaufort (129), Edgefield (121), Lexington (118), Fairfield (116), Clarendon (114), Horry (113), Oconee (110) and Allendale (109).

Greenville County which raised 101 per cent of its goal, had the largest contributions of any county in the state with $83,010. Next in total contributions were Richland ($56,130), Pickens ($42,340), Anderson ($37,400), Spartanburg ($32,420), Florence ($15,760), Greenwood ($15,560), Lexington ($13,490), York ($12,990) and Orangeburg ($12,980).

The 1974 goal has been set at $600,000, with the IPTAY year running from last Saturday to next August 31st.

Organized in 1934, IPTAY (I Pay Twenty A Year) functions with just one purpose in mind — to finance athletic scholarships for Clemson's 11 intercollegiate sports. The club operates today just as it did 40 years ago. Not one single penny contributed to IPTAY during these four decades has been used for anything other than scholarships. All contributions made to IPTAY are tax deductible.

The beginning of IPTAY was the biggest shot in the arm ever received by Clemson athletics. Thousands of student-athletes have received an education through this organization which might not have been possible otherwise.

But no one, not even the late Dr. Ruppert H. (Rube) Fike, its founder, imagined that IPTAY would expand in the manner as it stands today.

IPTAY members are winners today and they are helping make winners for tomorrow.

game plan!

A winning strategy requires a game plan that includes not only "know-how", teamwork, stamina, and desire, but a key play which will contribute greatly to this end. This is the concept that has fired the go-and-grow of Sandoz Colors and Chemicals. For the future, the key play calls for a largely expanded and completely modernized laboratory, warehouse, and office facilities in Charlotte to meet the growing needs of the dynamic Southeast.
